HYMN NOTES:
For the Bread Which You Have Broken (516)
This hymn was written November 21, 1924 by the foremost hymnologist of his day, Louis F. Benson. Dr. Henry Sloane Coffin (The Riverside Church, NYC) read the draft but wanted an additional verse bringing in Service and Kingdom. “...the next day I sat down and wrote the verse,” said Benson. The composer of the tune, E. Earle Copes (1921-2014) was a noted Methodist composer, organist and church musician. He retired to the Sarasota FL area and was active playing the organ up until his death at age 94. There are two versions of Copes' tune because after the publisher neglected to renew the copyright of the original 1959 tune, Copes changed one note in the melody (the “E” first beat, second measure to a “G”), reharmonized it and even changed the tune name to FOR THE BREAD. The original tune and harmonization appears in our Glory to God hymnal.

We gather here in Jesus’ name; his love is burning in our hearts like living flame; For through the losing Son the Father makes us one: come, take the bread; come, drink the wine; come, share the Lord. We are we new a family, of which the Lord is head. Though unseen, he meets us here in the breaking of the bread.

HYMN #463        “How Firm a Foundation”  FOUNDATION
(stanzas 1,2,4,5)  How firm a foundation, ye saints of the Lord! That soul, though all hell should endeavor to shake, “The soul that on Jesus hath leaned for repose, Thy dross to consume, and thy gold to refine. My grace, all sufficient, shall be thy supply; When through fiery trials thy pathway shall lie, Upheld by my righteous, omnipotent hand. I’ll strengthen thee, help thee, and cause thee to stand, Fear not, I am with thee, O be not dismayed, What more can be said than to you God hath said, Is laid for your faith in God’s excellent Word!

COMMUNION SONG        “When at This Table”  Jane Marshall

At this table we receive a blessing, the broken bread, the wine of life for me, then let us share the peace with you, my neighbor, and let the Spirit set our spirits free.

What faith I have, I bring to join this table, what hope I hold, in Christ is taught and true; then let me share the peace with you, my neighbor, and let the Spirit set our spirits free.
