

Music Notes:

Mine Eyes Have Seen the Glory (354) by Julia Ward Howe, 1861

The author, Julia Ward Howe, was born in 1819 which means this year we celebrate the bicentennial of her birth. We have in our hymnal three of the five stanzas Howe scribbled down before dawn on November 19, 1861 in a Washington, DC hotel. She and her husband with some friends had come to see the Union troops on review near Falls Church, VA. On the slow road back to the hotel they sang army-related songs to pass the time since the marching troops and equipment shared the highway. Among these was "John Brown's Body" and she was challenged to come up with better words for that tune. There are many Biblical images included in her hymn but in addition to the Biblical images, the author was also dependent on the lyrics of "John Brown's Body" for some of her inspiration. That song ends each stanza with "but his soul goes marching on." This hymn has naturally been associated with funerals for national leaders beginning with Abraham Lincoln in 1865 and continuing through Ronald Reagan in 2004.

"For This Land in All Its Wonder"

For this land in all its wonder, for each city, farm, and town, for each mountain filled with splendor, for each place where love is found,
for the freedoms we enjoy here,
God, may thanks to you abound! God, may thanks to you abound!

For your peace and love unending, breaking barriers that divide;
for the joy of cultures blending as we live here side by side;
God, we thank you and we pray now:
may we all be unified! May we all be unified!

For your hand to lead and guide us, for your work in history,
for your vision born inside us of a just society,
God, we thank you and we pray now:
may this vision come to be! May this vision come to be!

May we be a nation seeking ways that are both wise and fair,
may our living and our speaking serve your purpose everywhere.
May we follow where you lead us;
God, this is our hope and prayer! God, this is our hope and our prayer!

PRAYER OF CONFESSION (Together)

God of celebrations and sorrows, we have waved the flag on this holiday weekend and our hearts beat with pride at the stirring sounds of the bands and fireworks. But in too many places there is little to celebrate. Our spirits ache for people both far and near who suffer and struggle just to have the basic necessities of life, while we live in abundance. Forgive us when our celebration clouds the needs of others. Help us be mindful of the many ways in which we can reach out to others. In Jesus' name. Amen.

*APOSTLES' CREED (Together)

I believe in God, the Father almighty, Maker of heaven and earth, and in Jesus Christ his only Son, our Lord; who was conceived by the Holy Ghost, born of the Virgin Mary, suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, dead, and buried; he descended into hell; the third day he rose again from the dead; he ascended into heaven, and sitteth on the right hand of God the Father Almighty; from thence he shall come to judge the quick and the dead. I believe in the Holy Ghost; the holy catholic church; the communion of saints; the forgiveness of sins; the resurrection of the body; and the life everlasting. Amen.
