

HYMN NOTES:

Go, Tell It on the Mountain (136)

This African-American spiritual is in the typical call-and-response pattern and is a straightforward retelling of the birth of Jesus as found in Luke. The words and perhaps the music were adapted from traditional sources by John W. Work, Jr. who apparently wrote the verses as the original ones could not be found. His son copyrighted that and other songs in his 1940 book American Negro Songs. John W. Work, III took pleasure in recalling his early days as a child on the campus of Fisk University where his father was a teacher. Very early on Christmas morning, long before sunrise, it was then the custom for students to gather and walk together from building to building singing this spiritual. It was first published in a mainline denominational hymnal in the Pilgrim Hymnal, 1958 (United Church of Christ).

CALL TO CONFESSION

PRAYER OF CONFESSION (together)

God of love, as we reflect back on this past year and prepare to live out our faith in the year upcoming, we confess our weaknesses, failures, and transgressions: Our broken promises, our selfishness and our lack of faith in your goodness and grace. O Dear Lord, for these sins of commission and omission, may you show us mercy, grant us forgiveness and by your grace empower us to live faithful lives that make a difference for Jesus’ sake in whose name we pray. Amen.

ASSURANCE OF PARDON

SOLO

“In Silence He Came”

Joseph M. Martin

Liana Stephen, Soprano

In silence He came with grace soft as snowfall. Hushed was creation awaiting His cry. The voice of His Mother reached out in the night, filling the air with a sweet lullaby. Singing a sweet lullaby.

In evening He came with hope like a candle. Starlight and moonbeams dancing on straw as gentle blue shadows fell soft on the stall. The glory of heaven came down for us all. Jesus was born for us all.

Light of the world, song in the shadows. Star of the morning and heaven’s bright Son, Bringer of peace, Grace everlasting; He is the promise, He is Messiah, He is the glorious One!

In mystery He came and wrapped up in wonder, miracle baby from heaven above. O how can it be that this babe in a manger brings us salvation and warms us with love.

Still, still, still, come and see the child so still. For Christ is crowned with heaven’s glory, Still your heart and bow before Him. O night when Christ was born.

For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, forever. Amen.

Come with me and see, born for you and me,
Mary’s baby, heaven’s king, while the angels sing.*
